Here is what Workstatus has to offer you

The features that will streamline your workflow
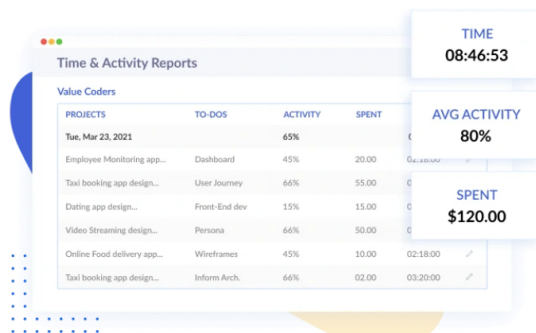

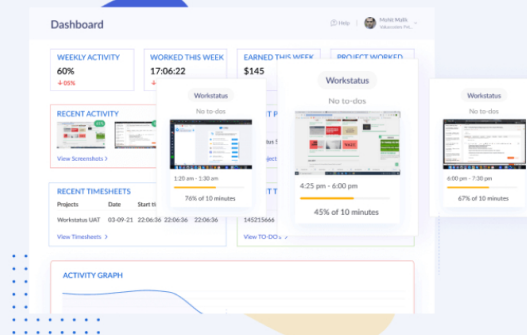

Accurate Time Tracking

Stop wasting time recording clock-in and clock-out

Stop wasting time recording clock-in and clock-out on paper or a device at the entry gate. Switch to Workstatus and start tracking every minute spent working. How this works: switch the timer on, and you are automatically clocked in; the app records the entire duration of work, switch off the timer, and you are marked as clocked out.

Real Time Screenshots

We not only record the total hours worked, we also keep a record of "Proof of Work". So, at random intervals, the software would continue taking screenshots till the time the timer was on. You can view these screenshots from anywhere to learn what your employees were working on at any time of the day.
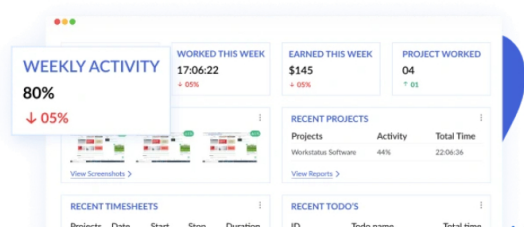

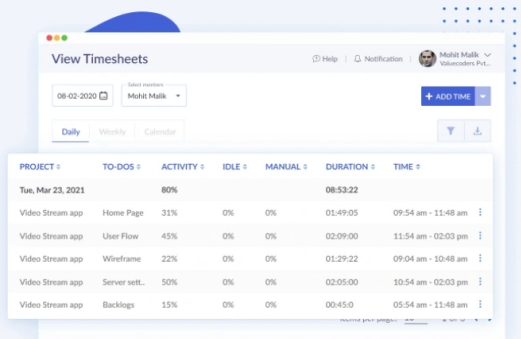

Real Time Insights

Generate unlimited reports on different requirements. If you want the time & activity report of a particular team, you can generate this report in seconds and can also receive it in your email in any format you desire.

Data-driven Smart Decisions

Based on this real-time data, make smart decisions for your business. Now, you need not make decisions merely based on a hunch or gut feeling. You have real data to back your decisions and take your business to the next level.
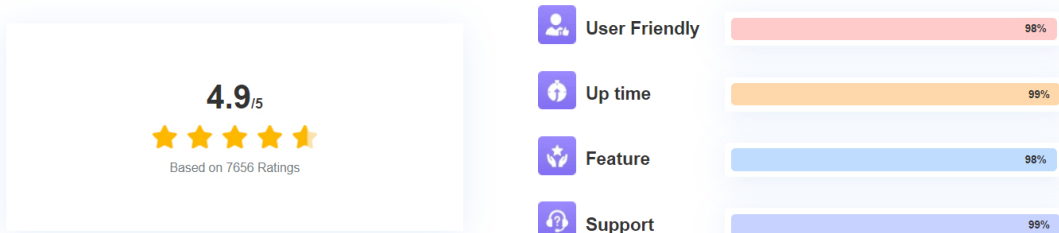

Cut Cost & Boost ROI

Using this software, you can cut costs on administrative roles, like maintaining attendance records, time & activity records, etc. As all these tasks can be automated, it would save you lots of money, would reduce errors, and you can use your resources and budget in building your business

Before using Workstatus, I had no idea of what each person on my team was doing during their workday, which made it hard to assign tasks effectively. But now, Workstatus's detailed reporting helped me better prioritize work and understand where time can be saved.
